UPPER SCHOOL DEDICATION

KENT FERGUSON

We have chosen to dedicate this yearbook to the person whose faith, patience and guidance has contributed to the success of our class. His genuine concern for each individual is reflected in the attitude of the students as a whole. He has channeled our energy into constructive efforts and has enabled us to become a productive class. The unity with which we pride ourselves is largely due to his guidance. We are indebted to this man and wish to express our gratitude. We, the class of 1973, dedicate this LA HONDA to Mr. Ferguson.

And the seasons they go round and round
And the painted ponies go up and down
We're captive on a carousel of time
We can't return, we can only look Behind from where we've come
And go round and round and round
In a circle game.

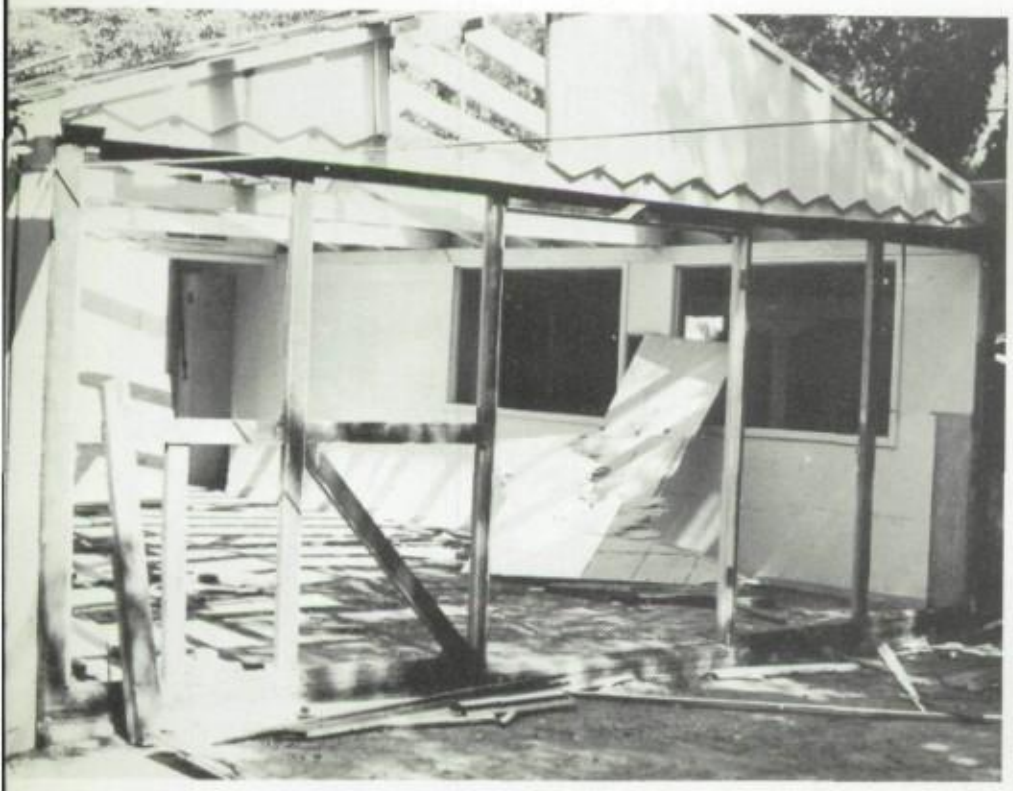
THE NEW BUILDING

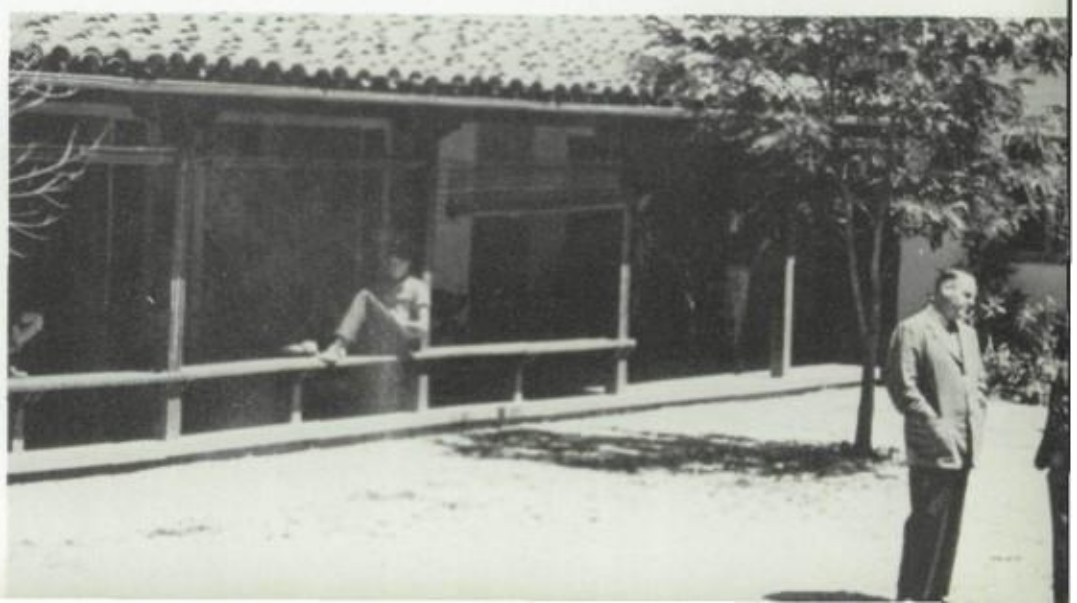


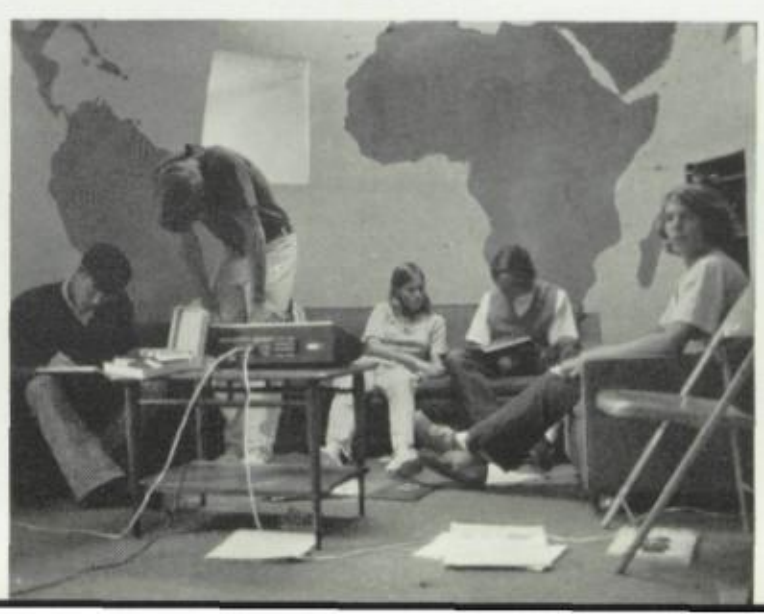
As school began this year, a new building was put into use. It consists of a block of four classrooms, several offices, a storeroom and restrooms. The new complex replaces the old buildings which contained the Shuman Room, Old Art Room, Terrace Room, Faculty and Senior Rooms. These old rooms had a lot of character and atmosphere, but posed a number of problems.

The electric wiring was faulty, the heating no longer worked, several beams had cracked, and termites were eating homework papers. Before the buildings were demolished, students worked for several days salvaging roof tiles for use on the new building. Aside from saving a considerable sum of money, the mixing of old, weathered tiles with new ones helped the new structure to harmonize with other buildings at school.

Approximately where the Terrace Room once stood, a circular brick patio was constructed. At one side of this is the Lisa Merritt Memorial Fountain which was dedicated on September 17th.

THE BLAIR STERRETT SHUMAN HOUSE





CAMP LAGUNA

On September 6 at 10:00 A.M., nearly everyone in grades 9-12 met in the school parking lot for the bus trip to Cachuma Camp. Camp Laguna was organized this year in an effort to get school off to a better start than ever. It was hoped that the two days at Camp Laguna would enable new students to get acquainted with the school, and reunite old friends before the start of classes. Among the activities during the two days were a game of Capture-the-Flag using sacks of flour, wheelbarrow races, and chicken fights in the swimming pool. There was square dancing one evening. Camp Laguna was definitely a success.

WIND

a murmur, a breeze set in motion a feeling, a kind of notion that a misty, shadowy shape is close by but then, it passes like a soft, deep sigh

a force, strong but unseen, an effort made to redeem its lost substance in the sound of the trees as it swishes by but then, it passes like a soft, deep
sigh

a fury, its violence sweeps the land its message, unkown to man its purpose felt only by the leaves that mystically swirl by but then, it passes like a soft, deep
sigh

a sadness that knows no end a feeling, that with this blends the knowledge that the Wind blows the truth from the depth of the sky
but then, it passes like a soft, deep
sigh

unfortunate that man cannot see how the Wind answers his special need to know his soul and let the spirit fly but man lets it pass like a soft, deep sigh

TIM MESSICK

It is only a little planet
But how beautiful it is.
Water that owns the north and west and south
And is all colors and is never all quiet,
And the fogs are its breath . . .
All the free companies of windy grasses . . .
Pure naked rock . . .
. . . A lonely clearing;
  a little field of corn by the streamside;
  a roof under spared trees.
Love that, not man apart from that . . .

I find that the three truly great times for thinking thoughts are when I am standing in the shower, sitting on the john, or walking. And the greatest of these, by far, is walking.

Song to a Seagull

Fly silly seabird
No dreams can possess you
No voices can blame you
For sun on your wings
My gentle relations
Have names they must call me
For loving the freedom
Of all flying things
My dreams with the seagull fly
Out of reach out of cry

I came to the city
And lived like old Crusoe
On an island of noise
In a cobble stone sea
And the beaches were concrete
And the stars paid a light bill
And the blossoms hung false

Out of the city
And down to the seaside
To sun on my shoulders
And wind in my hair
But sand-castles crumble
And hunger is human
And humans are hungry
For worlds they can't share
My dreams with the seagulls fly
Out of reach out of cry

I called to the seagull
Who dives to the waters
And catches his silver-fine
Dinner alone
Crying where are the footprints
That danced on these beaches
And the hands that cast wishes
That sunk like a stone
My dreams with the seagulls fly
Out of reach out of cry

The sun shimmers a bright light beam into a vast, calm sea; the wind blows across the water to gently curve the sail.
A boat glides smoothly onward toward a distant shore.
A lazy day in the sun, a quiet sail with friends, is beauty in motion, poetry in action.
That's sailing, that's fun, that's life.

Ozymandias

I met a traveller from an antique land
Who said: "Two vast and trunkless legs of stone Stand in the desert. Near them, on the sand, Half sunk, a shattered visage lies, whose frown,
And wrinkeled lip, and sneer of cold command,
Tell that its sculptor well those passions read
Which yet survive, stamped on these lifeless things,
The hand that mocked them and the heart that fed.
And on the pedestal these words appear:
'My name is Ozymandias, king of kings:
Look on my works, ye Mighty, and Despair.'
Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare
The lone and level sands stretch far away."

-Percy Bysshe Shelley

Dawn is a feeling, a beautiful ceiling
The smell of grass just makes you pass into a dream.
You're here today
No future fears
This day will last a thousand years
If you want it to. . .
You look around you, things they astound you So breathe in deep, you're not asleep
Open your mind.
You're here today
No future fears
This day will last a thousand years
If you want it to. . .
You understand that all over this land There's a feeling in minds far and near It's all becoming clear with a painting

Now that you're growing Pleasure starts flowing It's true that life flies faster Than eyes could ever see
You're here today
No future fears
This day will last a thousand years
If you want it to. . .

LOWER SCHOOL DEDICATION

MR. GLENN A. REITZ

The staff of La Honda 1973 takes great pleasure in dedicating the Lower School section of the yearbook to a man who is dedicated to teaching, our school, and his students. Among the pictures that we have presented here are a couple that we took at a suprise birthday party for Mr. Reitz given by his Sixth Grade students. We would like to join those students in a tribute to a great teacher and a good friend.

ADVERTISING

The staff of La Honda 1973 would like to dedicate the advertising section this year to the many parents who through their generous donations to the Personal Patron section have helped to make publication possible.

We are also greatly indebted to commercial advertisers who have helped support the book, many of them faithfully over a long period of time; and to those parents who because of their connections with the Santa Barbara business community have been able to help us solicit advertising.

To all of our supporters in the advertising section of La Honda, we express our warmest thanks. Without you there would be no yearbook.
